FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL, FRIDAY, Aug. 12. There was a marked contraction in the volume of business in the market for securities to-day, and the trading lost the buoyant tone that characterized it earlier in the week. Technical market conditions accounted adequately for the change in the tone of the trading, but, aside from these, other circumstances were present to which the reactionary tendency was commonly referred. Among them was the heavy selling of stocks in this market by foreign banking houses, a rumored outbreak of yellow fever in the Southern States, and apprehenslops of money-market stringency as a result of the current heavy payments on ac count of the Government loan. The unfavorable disposition of the foreign dealings here was said to be owing to the Anglo-Russian friction in China, and local traders utilized the same matter as a reason for selling stocks. There was no confirmation of the rumors in respect of the yellow fever outbreak, yet the securities of the Southern roads were sold down sharply. Louisville and Nashville declining 15 F cent. on the day. The apprehended stringency in the money market falled to develop also. Although loans made to-day carry over until Monday, the rates for call loans did not exceed 2 Weent at any time in the day, and much of the borrowing was effected below that rate.

The declines in the Granger shares were all within fractional limits, as, indeed, were the losses elsewhere except in two or three cases. The weakest features of the market were Lou-isville and Nashville and Manhattan Railway. In the last named case the selling was attended by reports that the forthcoming quarterly statement of the company would show a large de-crease in earnings, while, as usual in the case of Manhattan when that stock is weak, the prospects of the severe competition of the surlines were harned upon. Heavy trading in the lower-priced stocks was a feature of the day, and these were generally strong. Chesapeake and Ohio, Northern Pacific common and Union Pacific common were the features in this respect. The buying of the first named was in anticipation of the publication to-morrow of the company's annual report. The showing that will be made then will throw some light upon the recent advance in Chesapeake and Ohio securities. The company has carned a surplus after all charges and outlaws for betterments of $618,000, or about 1 per cent, upon the stock. The outlay for better ments charged to operating expenses was also equal to about 1 per cent on the stock. The dealings in the industrial stocks were fairly heavy, and those stocks were generally reactionary along with the general market American Malting and the United States Rubber shares were exceptions in this respect The market closed dull and heavy.

Early cotton is beginning to open, particularly on light river lands and uplands. Soung cotton doing well, and will make a good crep with another rain. This would rob a possible drought of most of its terrors, though the fart remains that the out-turn will depend largely on the weather the remainder of this month. Some localities used rain, though as a rule warm, dry weather is required for fruiting and maturing crop and opening grown boils. We are having this kind of weather to-day, and a continuation of it for a short season will put us well nigh out of danger. Columbus, Ga. Aug. 6.— Weatherduring past formight, especially this week, has been unfavorable. The almost daily rains have caused rain growth, and some rust and abedding, especially on light, sandy lands. Should they continue much longer they will probably injure the crop considerably. In some places in this immediate asighborhood a windstorm did some damage. While condition has failen off from the brilliant prospects of a week or ten days ago, we still think outlook very fair for a large crop. Atlants, Ga. Augusta, Ga., Aug. 9.— Have had so much rain for several weeks that plant has a large weed and is heavily fruited. Grop now in a condition that seem nost dameerous to its asfety. A sudden cessation of rains would most assuredly result in heavy shedding. On other hand, if rains continue a week or two longer we will be confronted with rust, boll worms and shedding. Usually the big weed that we have now does not make a big crop.
